DOLLAR REWARD SOAP

Washes without rubbing: Removes Pitch, Tar, Paint, Grease, Sweat and Leather Stains, &c. Washes with Hot or Cold, Hard, Soft, or Salt Water. Saves Labor, Time, Fuel, Clothes, and Money. Clothes washed with it wear twice as long as if washed with common soap. One pound of it will go much further than ten or fifteen cents worth of common family washing. It washes the finest lace without injury, and renders all articles as clean and bright as new.

THE DOLLAR REWARD SOAP.

Try it in the Bathroom; it saves the skin cool, smooth and soft. Use it to cleanse your Marble Ornaments, Mantles, Door-steps, &c., and Brick Work and Paint. Use it with scouring brick in cleaning iron or steel. It saves half the labor, and gives a bright appearance. It makes Tin Ware shine like a new dollar. Use it in your stables or stores. Scattered in nothing worse, it sweeps the foul and offensive smell from the premises.

On Sunday last a custom officer from St. John, N. B., assisted by an officer from St. Stephen, went to Doctor's Cove, Deer Island, and seized the British sch. ROAD LOCOMOTION.—A series of interesting trials are now taking place at the N. J. Agricultural Society's grounds, at Waverly, with a road locomotive, manufactured by Messrs. Aveling & Sorter of Rochester, England. Every day, parties of spectators witness the operation of the machine.

The engine is put through a series of evolutions, the performance of which leaves no question as to its adaptation to the purposes named, doing the work at less than half the expense of animal power.

The engine at Waverly is rated at six horse power, and weighs a little over five tons, including its fuel and water. It has a horizontal boiler, and a single cylinder mounted on the top. The engine is driven by spur-gearing, and the driving wheels are entirely of wrought iron. The road locomotive, including driving, firing and steering, is under the control of a boy.

The other day it was made to run through mud a foot deep. It was then turned sharp around and ran up a steep bank, having in incline of one in five; turned around again at the top and down the same descent.

BEHIND THE SCENES.—The following anecdote has been associated with the name of a well known clergyman's helpmate in the North of Ireland. The minister had been entertaining at dinner, a clerical friend, from some distance. The evening was unpropitious and the friend was invited by the clergyman to remain during the night, and he accepted the invitation. They walked together for some time in the garden. At dusk the clergyman asked his visitor to step into the manse, while he would give directions to his man-servant to get his friend's conveyance ready in the morning. As the stranger entered the manse, the minister's wife mistook him for her husband in the twilight.—She raised the purple Bible, which chanced to be on the lobby table, and bringing the full weight of it across the stranger's shoulders, exclaimed emphatically: "take that, for asking your wife if you may stay all night!"

CHEESE PRESS. The American Agriculturalist furnishes its readers with the description of a simple cheese-press:

A small family cheese may be made on any farm, where two or more cows are kept. The night's milking may be kept over, and added to that of the morning, about fifty to sixty quarts being sufficient. Bring the milk to blood heat, that is, so as to feel warm to the hand. A piece of well-saved rennet, two inches square, is to be soaked over night, in a pint of warm water, and the liquid from it added to the warm milk, which may be left for half an hour to set. A small tub, or a common wash-boiler well scoured, may be used for this purpose. When well set, the curd should be cut across both ways, into small squares, of two or three inches, with a long bladed knife, to facilitate the separation of the whey. Lift the curd out carefully with a strainer, and place it in the hoop. This may be of tin, eight inches in diameter, and a six quart pail, which has become useless for other purposes, will serve. Punch the bottom full of holes for the whey to drain off. Set the hoop on a stand for pressing. A handy press may be made thus: A piece of 1½ inch board will make the bench; four legs are put beneath, fitted into holes bored, and wedged in them. An upright is put through a hole in the end of the bench, and a pin passed through underneath to prevent it from being drawn out. A lever is fitted on so as to work up and down, as may be necessary. The hoop is set on the bench, a wooden follower fitting loosely is laid on the curd, and a sad iron is hung on the of the lever. The weight can be increased as desired by shifting the cheese nearer to the post. A few grooves are necessary to carry off the whey which drains from the curd and drops into a pan underneath. As soon as the cheese is sufficiently pressed to handle, take it out, wrap a bandage of fine muslin round it, and sew the edges. Bathe the cheese all over, and put it away in a cool dry place to cure. The next week make another, and repeat the process as often as desired. A very palatable cheese may be made with three parts skim-milk and one of new. A few experiments will make a green hand quite an adept at this branch of housekeeping.

"BOSS" TWEED INTERVIEWED.—A N. Y. Standard reporter called on "Boss" Tweed on Thursday, and found him "spoiling for a fight." The following is a portion of the conversation reported:

Reporter: The report is that a combination of Democrats is being formed to throw you overboard.

Mr. Tweed: Let them try it. They have been combining for years and they haven't done it yet. I tell you that is where I am happy—in a fight. You mention Roosevelt and others. Why, who is Roosevelt? No one knew him till we brought him to the front and sent him to Congress; he was at the front before—nobody knew him—we made him. Let him fire away at me, and all the rest of them; if they beat me, all right.

Reporter: How about all this real estate you are said to own?

Mr. Tweed: I do own considerable real estate and wish I had more. Real estate is a good thing to have. I don't want to sell a dollar's worth; it is the best kind of property I know of, and I'd like to get some more.

Reporter: If you are so anxious to get into court, why did you let the Mayor back down yesterday? If he had appointed another Controller matters would have gone into court fast enough to have pleased even you.

Mr. Tweed: That wouldn't have brought up the question about these bills that we are accused of paying. The question would have been on the Controllership and not on these claims that are said to be fraudulent.—When these get into court you'll find me there fast enough. That's the great point for me to fight. As to the cry about the Ring, why, that's politics, and we meet political movements with other movements.

"I dont know anything about the new combination you allude to among Democrats, but I am just where I have always been—the public knows where that is. Perhaps they can beat us; but we will see. I am sorry I haven't got anything new to tell you. Call again; perhaps I shall have—glad to see you at any time."

Mr. Tweed seemed to be in his jolliest humor; his words flowed rapidly and, though they were interspersed with occasional profanity, as is customary among politicians, there was no hesitation. His face was wreathed with smiles, his voice soft and unctuous, and his extensive corporosity responded sympathetically to his mirthful laugh. Diamonds glittered upon his immaculate shirt front, and bright gems glistened on his fingers. On the whole Mr. Tweed presented the appearance of cleanliness, jollity, pleasant to contemplate, particularly when he discoursed of the millions of real estate upon which he can rely for a continuance if not an expansion, of his jolly dimensions.

FALL TREATMENT OF BREEDING EWES.—If the ewes have been at all reduced by suckling their lambs through the summer, immediately after their milk has dried up efforts should be made to regain a thrifty condition by the time the coupling season commences. A sufficient reason for this is, they can be wintered easier and cheaper if put in a high condition before the extremely cold and stormy weather begins. But additional reasons are to be found in the fact that they will take the ram more readily, and be more likely to get with lamb—no inconsiderate item if choice rams are used, and it is desirable to get as much service from a single animal as possible. They will shear heavier fleeces the following season, with better length and strength, than if stinted "from grass to corn."

No matter how good the pasturage we have, found it profitable to feed them one-half to one bushel of corn daily to each hundred breeding ewes, for ten days before, and during the coupling season. This was usually thrown to them in the ear, when they were through eating, or just before sunset. We preferred this time, as the stronger animals were not so likely to injure the weaker ones by crowding, or themselves by over-eating.—Under such treatment, we have found a flock of a thousand ewes, picked out and bred as many as four hundred the first week. Following this course, lambs will drop the following spring as fast as any sheep-farmer, with but ordinary facilities, can properly care for them. "Teasers" put into the flock every morning, before turning to pasture, will, in a short time, find most of the ewes that are with child. These can be picked out by the shepherd as fast as found, and placed in a separate pen, to be attended to while the large flock is grazing. The animals that have been bred, should be marked and kept to themselves, until the entire flock has been served. This saves much labor and annoyance to both shepherd and sheep.

We have always had the best "luck" during the lambing season, with the flock that was in the highest condition in the spring—losing the fewest ewes while yeaning, and the fewest lambs from lack of milk or refusal of dams to "own" them. And so it will be found we doubt not, with flock masters generally.—Not only are the lambs from such ewes worth double as much as the increase from a flock dragged through the winter in a half starved condition, but they will not require half the labor and attention to bring them to maturity. Uniformity in the size of the different animals in a flock can be secured in no other way so readily as by liberal feeding and proper attention during the coupling and yeaning seasons. [West Rural.

BUTLER'S CAMPAIGN

[illegible] campaign inaugurated by General Butler in Massachusetts is waxing fast and furious and the formidable which that rather troublesome individual has succeeded in creating in the usually sedate political circles of the Bay State must be measurably gratifying to his fondness for a row The fight just now rages the Democratic [illegible] Butler's [illegible] carry their convention and the [illegible] to defeat Butler That [illegible] a stubborn and unscrupulous [illegible] by the reports of packed caucuses and the pure demagogism of his harangues but as the states made by himself in this opening differ so materially it is impossible to tell just how the fortunes are doing Whether he will be able to accept the favorable [illegible] decline in his prospects and Massachusetts may be able to slough off when it comes to the test The Advertiser appeals for a combined effort against Butler and while advocating the [illegible] Mr Lowe says of his friends

They know that all who are opposed to the rights of all must make common cause and be generously cordially to the support of Butler Republican, whoever he may be, who honestly makes an end of the wretched disgraceful which tends to destroy the integrity of the party and wreck its hopes They [illegible] order to defeat the [illegible] discipline and raise [illegible] Within ten years have the [illegible] strong, an expectation of a change the State government as to-day and all the hopes are based on the revolt of Gen Butler He must be not only defeated but overwhelmed While we can concentrate [illegible] still faithful regulars of the party this end, should have [illegible] the army he creates

The [illegible] urges untiring vigilance in [illegible] martial [illegible]

Wherever to caucuses are [illegible] be held [illegible] carefully attended to It will [illegible] should [illegible] after the [illegible] warrant [illegible] been given, a single [illegible] be carried by default [illegible] the hour of [illegible] to the call is, and be sure beforehand to season [illegible] upon a [illegible] hazards no matter how long it takes Let Democrats resign their voting or their own caucuses Let our Republican friends will [illegible] to act will discharge their duty in the spirit they will clear the ground for the Worcester Convention and [illegible] their [illegible]

It is well understood that the entire delegation in Congress from Massachusetts, with the exception of General Butler is opposed to his nomination Judge Hoar strongly favors the election of Mr Washburne and Mr Lowe writes from Syracuse, N Y, in opposition to Butler as follows

[illegible] the [illegible] as well as [illegible] the State if measures, now for the first time inaugurated, to seize her places of honor and power should prove successful If I have influence with a single Republican in the State tell him to work while there is an hour left to rescue her good name from reproach at home and abroad I regret to see so good a report from western Massachusetts in [illegible]

With reference to the influence of the national administration the correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette says that while the President has spoken of the Republican caucuses in Massachusetts as a purely local matter requiring no interference from Washington there has been a change for the last week or two which has been rapidly setting into a conviction that General Butler's course is calculated to benefit the Democracy of Massachusetts much more than the Republicans, and the [illegible]

Add to this the fact that many good friends of the Administration are really perplexed at the [illegible] of Butler and the [illegible] strong, an expectation of a change the State government as to-day and all the hopes are based on the revolt of Gen Butler He must be not only defeated but overwhelmed While we can concentrate [illegible] still faithful regulars of the party this end, should have [illegible] raised against the regular Republicans Ward Sir And I have no doubt that he can be provoked into a [illegible] pretext for running independently he is much more likely to draw from them And I wish I could [illegible] Republicans on the ground that they yield to regularly or irregularly and refuse to sit in Congress [illegible] will not [illegible] return to the national capital with his photographed hotel [illegible] his scrapbooks and all the other machinery of his spy system fly [illegible] the contempt and hatred of Massachusetts [illegible] the division of Washington

[illegible] anxiety on the part of the Democrats to crush out the principle of Free Trade [illegible] The same men who [illegible] Grant have no hold upon the people [illegible] administration has [illegible] and that it is renouncing [illegible] which the strongly and disinterested [illegible] journal, that a Democrat [illegible] are hardly true to their party [illegible] that they carry their [illegible] political opponents [illegible] Why not [illegible] the other hand, [illegible] make the reformation, [illegible] authorities [illegible] and then give them opportunity to elect some [illegible] Alexander H Stephens [illegible] candidate as [illegible]

I understand the anomaly of trying the other thieves two New York courts it must be remembered that Judge Fedwith is a strong opponent of Tammany and that on learning of these frauds to bring the accused before him in the hope caused their arrest on the warrant of Judge Dowling their friend Hence two of the men are in one court while the woman is in another The affidavits are all in Fedwith's court and it is supposed that the two men will get clear at the hands of Dowling before whom the proceedings are said to have been purposely informal

The Machias Republican says, We learn that C R Whidden, Collector of the Passamaquoddy District after having detectives from Washington thoroughly overhaul the affairs of his office in every part and corner, is reported at headquarters to be all right, that the affairs of his office are on a basis as sound as any in the State, and the examination has resulted in a perfect restoration of the confidence of the Government.'

The Boston Advertiser of Saturday morning gives the number of delegates elected to the Republican Convention as 792, of whom 290 support Genl Butler, the preferences of 6 unknown and 487 are anti Butler. On Saturday at noon the slate made up at Butler's headquarters stood—delegates elected, 311, for Butler 192 uncommitted, 58, anti Butler, 361 [illegible] returns are from 209 cities and towns. There are 131 towns and cities to hear from.

Mr. John Foley, a Democrat who has been active in the recent movement against the Tammany Ring, publishes a letter to Mayor Hall, calling on him to resign. He shows just Judge Barnard's opinion that Hall is responsible at Tweed and Connolly for my years' [illegible] Wm. Sweeny and Wm. Tweed 8 years; Alexander Defriese and Wm. McIntyre, two years; and the last five were also fined $500 each.

Spencer H. Moore and D. H Fortune were also sentenced to six month's imprisonment each. The next case called was U. S. vs. S. C Wilthermore and four others, on charge of assaulting on the 10th of May last Aaron Biggerstaff, his wife and daughter while on their way to testify as witnesses before the U. S Commissioner, and with intimidating said Biggerstaff in the exercise of his political rights Three of the defendants pleaded guilty and the other two went to trial, and at the close of the testimony Judge Bond advised the district attorney to submit to a verdict of not guilty as to the two on trial An other case for assault on Aaron Biggerstaff involving a large number of defts was also to come up on Friday

A FORGER SENTENCED The trial of Johnson H Sands, charged with complicity in the Harlstem forgery with ex Mayor Cahoon, was concluded at Richmond, Va, on Saturday morning Sands was found guilty and sentenced to two years in the Penitentiary The trial lasted nine days This is the third trial of Sands, he having been convicted twice, while on one occasion the jury was unable to agree, standing eleven for conviction and one for acquittal. Another attempt will be made for a new trial

THE SOCIAL EVIL IN WASHINGTON—The Washington Chronicle of Saturday morning says of the meeting on Friday evening All classes of society were represented last night at the meeting under the auspices of the Women's Club for the suppression of the social evil The remarks made by A G Riddle and Mrs Spencer were well received and will help the cause"

The National Republican alludes to the language of the speakers as incorrect, and in the name of virtue, decency and morality demands "that the city no longer be disgraced by these unwomanly women".

The Patriot says 'The Women's Club is doubtless engaged in a laudable effort, but it is not helping the cause by this public parade of vice and immorality Let women now work quietly and they will find that personal appeals for funds will result in a larger harvest than public shows"

THE GREELEY MURPHY QUARREL Collector Murphy of New York, publishes a reply to the communication of Henry S Olcott, printed in the Tribune, and also a letter to the Republicans of New York, together with the verdict of the Commission before whom the charges of Olcott were investigated in July, 1865 The Tribune of Saturday repeats its assertion that the facts in the case prove Murphy guilty and demands his expulsion "from any place of honor or trust under the Government he has so grossly defrauded"

To those who have noticed the Tribune's lack of energy in the war on Tammany, intimate that this assault on Murphy looks like an attempt to start a "back fire," to draw attention from the ring

THE KU KLUX COMMITTEE The full Congressional Ku Klux Committee had a brief meeting on Friday, when the Chairman, Senator Scott announced the appointment of the following subcommittees to take evidence this autumn and report to the full Committee prior to the assembling of Congress

In the States of Alabama, Mississippi and Tennessee Senators Pratt, Rice and Bayard, and Representatives Buckley and Robinson In North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida, Representatives Maynard, Schofield, Lansing and Voorhees and Senator Blair

The Grand Encampment of Knight Templars of the United States, elected the following officers Most Eminent Grand Master J Q A Fellows of New Orleans, Right Eminent Deputy Grand Master, James H Hopkins of Pittsburg, Very Eminent Grand Generalissimo, Vincent D Hurlbut of Chicago, Very Eminent Grand Captain General Benjamin Dean of Boston, Very Eminent Grand Senior Warden, William G Patten, of Meridian Miss, Grand Treasurer, Jno W Simmons of New York, Grand Recorder, Theo S. Parvin of Iowa City

The Grand Encampment of Knight Templars of the United States decided to hold their next triennial Convocation in New Orleans on the 1st Tuesday, in December 1874

The Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons, previous to adjourning, elected to meet the last Tuesday of November, 1874, at Nashville Tennessee

BOSS TWEED "HOME AGAIN"—A PLAINT OF INJURED INNOCENCE The Hon Wm M Tweed is a candidate again for Senator, and is going forward with his political canvass with the utmost coolness in the midst of the Tammany disclosures A mass meeting advertised in the Tribune thus. "Send them to the front" "For Senator Wm M Tweed!" Of great intellectual force, large hearted, slow to do an injury; a faithful friend and not an unforgiving enemy,' called out 20,000 of his supporters at Tweed's Plaza, on Friday night, where resolutions sustaining Tweed's official course and renominating him for the Senate were adopted, after which Mr Tweed being received with great enthusiasm, made the following modest speech

"At home again! at home again! and amongst the friends of my childhood and even of my youth Amongst these friends I feel I can safely place myself, my record, and all I have performed and done as a public official, openly and publicly to their gaze. Were I to say this merely the manner in which I have been received was such as to make every throb of my heart beat, I would be unjust to myself and those around me whom I am proud to see. At a time like this when to be a Democrat and hold office is to be aspersed, maligned, and condemned without trial, and reduced without hearing, it is a pleasure to a public official to come among the friends of his childhood, to take them by the hand, to talk to them in a friendly manner, and see his public conduct approved by them Resided traduced and maligned, as man has seldom been, I point proudly to my record of the past, which is open to all, and I court a free, open and impartial investigation into all the official and recorded acts of my life My friends say, Why do you not reply to these newspaper attacks? I have only one reply No manly man ever reply to a newspaper attack and stop the attack The proper place, true place, only place where a man can be adjudged guilty of charges against his character, such as those levelled at me, is before the properly constituted legal tribunal and I tell my opponents and traducers that I am ready at any moment to go forward and meet them, but while they stand behind that mighty engine of word power, the press, no man can do justice to himself by standing outside and fighting against those who are inside of the press My public life is open to my constituents and party, and it is such that I am able to face my accusers in the only manly, fair and proper way to meet those who traduce and revile us

I place myself in your hands, and I thank fully accept your nomination for Senator I expect of you that you will stand by me, and prove that you resent as untrue and unjust the calumnies heaped upon me. I had a majority of twenty two thousand at the last election, next time I expect a majority of thirty thousand, and I will be content with nothing less.

THE NORTH CAROLINA KU KLUX.—The jury in the Ku-Klux trials at Raleigh, N. C, on Thursday, returned a verdict of guilty against eight persons, not guilty against three, and two pleaded guilty during the trials. On Friday the counsel for the defence made an appeal for mercy on behalf of the prisoners, and Judge Bond then pronounced the following sentences. A. L. Shotwell and Amos Evans, six years' imprisonment with hard labor, and a fine of $5000 David Collins, four years' imprisonment Wm. Scruggs and [illegible]

These results are secured by a liberal use of SEA ISLAND COTTON, and the expensive process of Combing, whereby the short fibres of Cotton are removed, and by important improvements in machinery, some of which are patented and used exclusively by the Williston Mills who were also the first to introduce cotton combers in this country With this Thread the operator on the sewing machine can accomplish more and better work than with the ordinary article.

In many instances it is being substituted for Silk and Linen with entire satisfaction to the consumer We have a little machine to test the strength of Thread and all who will call can see that the Williston Thread has greater strength than any other in use.

THE TAMMANY WAR.

The Voucher Thieves.

Officials to be Examined.

Mayor Hall Still Defiant.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.

HIDING THE PLUNDER.

It is reported that members of the "Ring" are transferring their property to friends not implicated in the public frauds. Tweed transferred $35,000 on deposit in the Union Square Bank Thursday, to his son, and which is nearly $2,500,000 worth of real estate.

FUNDS FOR COMPTROLLER GREENE.

The Clearing House Association yesterday kindly granted Acting Comptroller Greene's request for a loan of $500,000 to meet the payments now pressing.

THE WIFE OF THE VOUCHER THIEF.

The examination of Mrs. Haggerty, one of the alleged voucher thieves, before Judge Ledwith, was postponed this morning. Ex-Judge C. Barrett, counsel for the prisoner, stated that it was alleged in some newspapers recently that to release Mrs. Haggerty; nor had he any consultation with District Attorney Pierrepont on the subject.

AUTHORITY TO INVESTIGATE.

It was pre-arranged at the last meeting of the Board of Supervisors that they should consider at the next meeting, the question whether the Committee of Seventy should be vested with the power of summoning before them the public officials, to be examined on oath, and also the men who have had dealings with the city government and whose bills are charged as exorbitant, and of demanding that the public documents be submitted for their inspection.

WAITING FOR O'GORMAN.

Deputy Comptroller Greene's reply to the requisition from the Department of Public Instruction for $350,000 was: "I am waiting for Mr. O'Gorman's opinion, which has not yet been received."

THE NEXT MOVE.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.

The municipal situation remains unchanged and public attention is now directed to the meeting of the Supervisors to-morrow for the next important movement.

HALL'S ANSWER.

Mayor Hall still refuses to recognize Deputy Comptroller Greene, saying that if he would send him any communication he would take no notice of it. In reply to those who urge his recognition, he yesterday caused to be posted in the City Hall a placard in which he says: "Elected the 1st of January, 1871, for two years, ending the 31st of December, 1872. That is my answer."

MEETING OF BUILDERS.

There was a large meeting of builders at Brevoort Hall last evening, to consider the frauds and abuses in the administration of the department of the city government, and arrangements were made for a mass meeting on the subject at Cooper Institute on Wednesday evening.

THE PRESIDENT AT THE WEST.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 23.

President Grant reached Covington at one o'clock afternoon from Brown County and proceeded at once to his father's residence. Late in the afternoon he went to the residence of Thomas Shinkle, Esq., to which a procession, consisting of the police forces of Covington and Newport, military detachments from Newport barracks, the Mayor of Covington, Committee of Arrangements, and citizens, marched this evening and a formal address of welcome was made by Mayor Baker of Covington, to which the President replied, tendering his thanks for his greeting and assuring the audience he was grateful. It was not an ovation shown the Executive by a single political party. He said it would be his object so long as he held office as he now did to be regarded as President of the whole people, and the minority should receive the same protection and enjoy the same privileges as the majority in power.

After again returning thanks for the reception he retired to the interior, where he received calls from several hundred persons.

INVITATION ACCEPTED.

LEAVENWORTH, Sept. 23.

A dispatch from the President of the Chicago and Rock Island and Pacific Railroad, says President Grant has accepted an invitation to be present at the formal opening of that road from Chicago to Leavenworth.

CARL SHURZ TO THE EX-CONFEDERATES.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 23.

Senator Shurz has sent a reply to the letter of the ex-Confederate soldiers in which he expresses his gratification at the sentiments embodied. He says: "when the late soldiers of the Confederate army declare that they will turn their backs upon the parties grouping in the moonlight of the past, and more fully recognize the identity of their true interests with those of our great common country; every patriotic citizen will feel that the regeneration of the South is certain to be accomplished by her own people... If there is still lurking here and there a spirit which keeps active feelings of animosity and distrust, and which, by means of social proscription, intimidation or violence, strives to impede the development of free public opinion, you can render it harmless by your influence and example. If there is still an apprehension as to a secret design to subvert the logical and legitimate results of the war by reactionary movements, you will remove the apprehension by demonstrating that the young South has risen above old prejudices and absolute aspirations, and is determined to build up again the prosperity and power of those States on a basis in harmony with the progressive spirit of the age." He assures them that their efforts will have the hearty applause and energetic support of every true friend of liberty and free institutions; that their rights will be safe in the security of the rights of all, and that their power will be strong in the restored brotherhood of all Americans, and the Republic will be proud of all her sons.

COLORED MEN'S CONVENTION.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 23.

The Colored Men's Convention to-day, after deciding the question of representation, effected a permanent organization by the election of E. K. Williams of Nebraska, President. On taking the chair Mr. Williams made a speech, in which he discussed at length the questions of national holidays, education and what the colored people ought to do in the coming Presidential election.

THE CAMPAIGN IN MASSACHUSETTS

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 24.

The recent Butler gains in the cities are fully offset by the anti-Butler delegates just chosen in the small towns. The Republican's returns show the election of 567 delegates, of whom 358 are Butler, and 529 anti-Butler men; majority against Butler, 171. It now seems certain that there will be not less than 130, and possibly as many as 250 majority against Butler in the Convention.

A resolution was passed that a committee be appointed to wait on the Governor and ask his co-operation with the convention for the purpose of reducing taxation and another that no candidate be supported at any election who will not pledge himself to retrenchment and reform, was referred to the Business Committee.

FROM WASHINGTON.

THE KU-KLUX INQUIRY.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.

The General Ku-Klux investigating Committee to-day authorized the chairman to report to Rev. M. Strudwick of Hillsboro, N. C. and David Gist of Union County, S. C., to the President of the Senate at the next session for contempt in failing to answer their summons to testify. The full committee then adjourned to meet on the first day of next session unless sooner called together. The subcommittee, consisting of Senators Scott, Pool and Blair, who were appointed to examine witnesses, then organized, and examined Col. Wm. B. Saunders of North Carolina, who refused to answer questions as to his connection with and knowledge of the Ku-Klux Klan organization, on the ground that he could not be compelled to criminate himself. He will be reported to Congress for contempt and will probably be arrested. The sub-committee for the Carolinas, Georgia and Florida, resolved to meet at Augusta Oct. 15th. The sub-committee for Tennessee, Alabama and Mississippi will meet at Huntersville, Ala., Oct. 5th.

THE INDIANS.

The War Department has transmitted to the Secretary of the Interior a copy of the correspondence between General Pope and Friend Hoag, Indian Superintendent, who sends a letter of the agent Tatum, detailing the return of 41 mules stolen by the Kiowas, and stating that Kicking Bird and other Kiowa chiefs have made a strong appeal for the release of Santanta and Big Tree. General Sherman disapproves their release, and says Kicking Bird can keep the Kiowas peaceful if Santanta is out of the way.

By

MY BIRTHDAY.

BY JOHN G. WHITTIER.

Beneath the moonlight and the snow
This dead my birthday lay;
The winter winds are wailing low
Its dirge in my ear.

I grieve not with the moaning wind
As if a loss befell;
Before me, even as behind,
God is, and all is well!

High in the shine on the frozen above,
Its low voice speaks within.
The patience of immortal love
Outwearying mortal sin.

Not mindless of the growing years
Of care and loss and pain,
My eyes are wet with thankful tears
For blessings which remain.

If I do the gold of life has grown
I will not count it dross,
Nor turn from treasures still my own
To sigh for lack and loss.

The years no charm from Nature take;
As sweet her voices call,
As is autumn her morning break,
As fair her evenings fall.

Love watches over my quiet ways,
Kind voices speak my name,
And life that find it best to praise
Are slow, at least, to blame.

How softly ebbs the tide of will!
How feeble, once I set my face,
Now I be behind the green and still
Beat with a lover's pace!

How hushed the hiss of party hate,
The clamor of the strife!
How dull has each occasion of debate
Made the pulse of life!

Methinks the spirit's temper grows
Free, self-poised, self-held;
Solemn as the restful heart foreglows
Of needed watch and prayer.

The tide by temper's vanity tossed
May flow in the gulfs;
And be who leaves the polar frost,
Faint by the isles of palm.

Better than self-indulgent years
The faithful years of age;
Than pleasant songs in idle ears
The music of the truth.

Rest for the weary hands is good,
Will for the spent is meet,
But it is nearly habitable
Of our old souls be mine

Lo! a breath blow from heaven refresh
Our Lord, the ever-living!
And let the weakness of the flesh
Thy strength of spirit share.

And, if the eye must fail of light,
That our faith be hearing,
Make us clear still the spirit's sight,
More than the outward ear.

Be near me in mine hours of pain
Less by day, or warm,
And bring from the shapes of sunset lead
A sunny hello of morn!

The Macon Telegraph says: "We learn from intelligent gentlemen that immature bolls are now rotting in the fields, and matured cotton is sprouting from the continuous wet weather, which leaves no chance to gather the crop."

Elizabeth Churchill truly tells the girls that the best novels ever written will hurt them if they read nothing else—that they will grow sentimental, morbid, and self-seeking, while common sense will become distasteful and common pleasures insipid.

The great progress that has been made in labor-saving machinery is well illustrated by the fact that no less than seventy farmers have been cut to pieces by mowing machines this season in Illinois. It would have taken the most expert wood-choppers a long time to do this with the old-fashioned axe.

All beauty is not monopolized by the Caucasian race. In Keokuk, the other day, at the State Fair, a baby-show was organized, and out of twelve competitors, the bouncing ebony image of Mrs. Chloe Franklin, a black woman, was unanimously awarded the prize as the handsomest infant in the group, and a card was pinned on the picturesque one, stating that the parents were of the Kentucky stock, owned at one time by Henry Clay.

Gen. Washington lost the battle of Germantown by pausing in pursuit of the British to dislodge a company which had posted itself in Chew's house. Gen. Bragg lost Louisville by stopping on his march toward Kentucky to inaugurate a Governor. Precisely similar tactics are now being pursued by the Alex. Stephens school of Democrats, who are wasting their energies over the legality of the new Amendments to the Constitution of the United States.—[N. O. Times.

FIRE-PROOF

LAMP CHIMNEYS.

A case containing, which are now for the first time offered to the public possess all the essentials of a first-rate Lamp Chimney. They are well made, of superior quality of glass, each one finished smoothly at the bottom, and being carefully annealed or tempered, will not break from the most intense heat of a lamp flame.

A trial of their merits will convince the consumer that, although costing a little more than the ordinary class of Chimneys in use, they will prove a source of much economy in the use of Kerosene, a saving of useless trouble and annoyance, and a preventative of many accidents hitherto resulting from the breakage of Chimneys upon burning Lamps.

Dentist Card.

I wish to say a word to the Gentlemen and Ladies of Bangor and vicinity. As parents you would do more for your children than for yourselves. A gentleman in Bangor, who is fifty years old, came in my office in April and said if he would give me one hundred dollars if I could save me, I left his mouth without extracting it. But I was too late. If a man will pay this value one tooth what should he do for his children.

Now if you cannot save your own, you can save the teeth of your children. Almost every child's father or mother will come to the office with some dear child to have one extract some aching tooth. I examine the mouth and find that he pulled tooth is not a temporary but a permanent one. The parent is surprised; you are wrong, she has never had her one tooth there, she will certainly have a permanent tooth in place of the one pulled.

A very large proportion of our young ones, have never known, or have forgotten that in our first set we have two sets of teeth. And that all teeth, but grow back of the twenty are permanent ones, thirty-two in all. They are extracted within the past year, seven permanent teeth for one of the grew to was not eleven years old. Will you parents suffer your children to suffer for their life time by your neglect? If by neglect you have lost your natural teeth, a set of artificial teeth will enable you to go for the best artificial gums. Hundreds of people in Bangor and vicinity will endorse by their own experience all that has said in this paper.

DR. J. K. LINCOLN.—Though we have not the pleasure of a personal acquaintance with the gentleman, we have reason to believe that he is a most skillful practitioner of the dental art. At least, he has made one old face in our house look young again, and has fitted, by a set of artificial teeth, to masticate the food again which daine a time thought to deprive of this privilege is little too soon. We think the work and composition of the two full sets of teeth he has inserted cannot be excelled anywhere.—Rural Intelligencer.

My price now is $20 for a whole set of the best artificial teeth, $25 for a half set

75,000 Acres

OF GOOD

Timber Land,

For Sale at a Low Rate,

Situated on Moose River, in the town of Greig, Lewis County, New York.

Said timber consisting of White Hemlock, Spruce, Pine and Hardwood. The subscribers own two large Sawmills, located on the aforesaid river, which will consume the hemlock bark, thus enabling the land and timber to be purchased at a comparatively cheap rate. The timber is excellent in quality in all particulars. The aforesaid tract of land is easy of access, being only from 4 to 8 miles from both the Black River R. R. and Black River Canal, which lead direct to the Albany Market. The land is comparatively level, well watered and good for farming purposes. Moose River, which extends through the tract, is a large stream and empties into Black River, at one the aforesaid Canal leads into Black River. At this point or junction of the rivers, is a fall of sixty (60) feet, over which the waters of both rivers flow, thus forming an unlimited water power, (we might say right in the Canal and at the Depot,) to which Moose River will carry the immense amount of timber from the aforesaid lands.

Any parties desiring to manufacture lumber will do well to give this rare opportunity their attention. The land and timber can be purchased at a cheap rate or the timber alone permitted.

JAY COOKE & Co. are now selling and recommend as a profitable And safe investment for all classes, the First Mortgage 7-30 Gold Bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. They have 30 years to run, bear Seven and Three-Tenths per cent. gold interest (more than 6 per cent currency), and are secured by first and only mortgage on the ENTIRE ROAD AND ITS EQUIPMENTS, and also, as fast as the Road is completed, on 23,000 Acres of Land to every mile of track, or 600 acres for each $1,000 Bond. They are exempt from U. S. tax; principal and interest are payable in gold. Denominations—Coupons, $100 to $1000; Registered, $100 to $10,000.

Northern Pacific 7-30's are at all times receivable, AT PAR PER CENT. ABOVE PAR, in exchange for the Company's lands at their lowest cash price.

The proceeds of all sales of lands are required to be devoted to the re-purchase and cancellation of the First Mortgage Bonds of the Company. The Land Grant of the Road exceeds Fifty Million Acres in the most fertile portion of the North West and the demand for the Company's lands for settlement already exceeds the ability of the Government to complete the surveys. The immense Sinking Fund will undoubtedly cancel the principal of the Company's bonded debt before it falls due.

Holders of U. S. Five-Twenties, who wish to convert them into a first-class railroad security, can do so at a present profit of about 15 per cent., while increasing the interest income nearly one-fourth, by exchanging them for Northern Pacific Bonds.

All marketable stocks and bonds will be received in exchange, free of express charges, at their highest current price. Full information, maps, pamphlets, etc., will be furnished on application to any agent for the Loan, or to JAY COOKE & CO., New York, Philadelphia, or Washington.
